

PAMS

Petroleum, Aviation & Mining Supplies

NO
PROBLEMS,
ONLY SOLUTIONS!

WHY USE US

- ✓ For more than 30 years, PAMS has stayed at the forefront industry and built a reputation for customer satisfaction.
- ✓ PAMS has been a leader when it comes to recognising and adapting to customer and supplier trends.
- ✓ Recognised industry-wide for excellent customer service, fast quoting times and competitive pricing.
- ✓ We always go out of our way to work with our clients and to be working when they are.

ABOUT US

Established in 1987, PAMS is an independent Western Australian equipment company, specialising in the supply of industrial, engineering and safety supplies. Our capabilities are built upon years of extensive development and integration experience.

PAMS offers an unbeatable combination of local knowledge and worldwide resources and experience. We work collaboratively with our customers to address their needs and requirements by combining the knowledge and experience of our people with our robust and reliable international networks to provide a full range service.

PRODUCTS

PAMS has everything you need when it comes to quality fluid transfer equipment. We pride ourselves on providing a fantastic range of products that our customers can purchase all in the one place. Whether you need a whole lot of supplies for a big project or just a few items for those small repairs, we're your one-stop shop for all your equipment needs.

BRANDS

PAMS represents some of the most recognisable and reputable brand names in the industry. Our customers seek out these brands for their promise of reliability, comfort and prestige – precisely what sets us apart from our competitors. All of these combine to make up the strongest portfolio of well-known brands in the industry, also giving us a unique competitive edge.

SERVICE

PAMS is known throughout Western Australia for its operational excellence. We continually educate our clients on the most up-to-date product releases as well as environmental and safety advances. Outstanding customer service has become a source of difference for our repeat customers and one of pride for us as a flexible modern day business.

